An Artemus Ward Story.
When Artemus Ward was at the height of his fame he received a telegram from Tom Maguire, then the leading amusement manager of the Pacific slope. It asked Artemus, who was then delivering his funny lecture in New York, what he would take for fifty nights in California. The prompt and laconic response was "Brandy and water." Maguire somehow failed to see the point, and he wired Ward for an explanation. He got it in the shape of a thirty word message costing $16.50, for rates were high in those days, which stated that a diagram would be sent by the following mail.

"It's a good idea," replied the beginner. "The dogs can't laugh at you!"—London Standard.

A Home Made Happy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—George W. Spence, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale by C. R. Renfro.

Going to move? Have M. Weinberger move those goods. All kinds of draying done quickly and reasonably.

The oldest and best. No substitutes. Pure drugs. Our prescription department is the best in city. Renfro's Drug store.

Backwardness of the First Families.

While without doubt the courtesy of street car conductors and minor city employees isn't all that it might be, the public is hardly justified in demanding Chesterfields and Brummels on wages of $2 a day. Many years ago an indignant citizen complained to old Mayor Quincy of Boston that the street sweepers were an ungentelemanly lot.
"I know it, I know it," acknowledged the old gentleman sadly. "I've tried to induce the members of the first families of Commonwealth avenue to handle the brooms, but they won't do it."—Woman's Home Companion.

Cure that cold and cough with Little's Red Spruce and White Pine Cough Syrup.

Are you hungry? If so go to Ed's Place, corner Oklahoma and First. He serves the best short orders in town.

The City of Roses.
Ispahan, Persia, is known as the "city of roses," but a traveler says that the streets "are only alleys between two high mud walls, without a single window or opening to be seen—more here and there a low, narrow doorway, always impenetrably closed. The ground is thickly coated with dust, the streets are rarely straight, and never have they got any name. The sense of ruin is everywhere—here a wall is falling down, there a palace is in ruins, a little farther a deserted mosque is skirted. Such is Ispahan, which from having at one time a population of 1,000,000 is now reduced to barely 100,000 inhabitants."

Emollients, pimples, rashes, medicated by Sathu skin cream disappear.

A Boomerang.
A very rich, very economical and very parsimonious young squire was making preparations for a tenant's ball some years ago and at his wine merchant's discovered a cheap brand of champagne. "This," he said, "is a good brand of champagne. It is quite good enough for those people who will come to my tenant's ball. They couldn't tell the difference, anyway." Accordingly he ordered a dozen cases of the cheap wine. A day or two before the event, picking up his newspaper, he noticed that his wine merchant had a half page advertisement. He ran his eye over it and saw in big black letters the paragraph, "Try our celebrated champagne at 38 shillings a dozen, as ordered by Gobba Gold, Esq., for his forthcoming tenant's ball."—Illustrated Bits.

How Diphtheria is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale by C. R. Renfro.

Men's Boots $3.50 to $7.50.—Robinson's.

The Origin of the Word Filibuster.
The name "filibuster" was chiefly affected by the English adventurers on our coast, while the French members of the profession often preferred the name of "filibuster." This word, which has since been corrupted into our familiar "filibuster," is said to have been originally a corruption, being nothing more than the French method of pronouncing the word "freebooters," which title had long been used for independent robbers.

Mean Thing.

"I really must get to my room," said the first college girl. "I can't afford to keep late hours, must preserve my complexion, you know."

"The idea!" exclaimed the other. "I thought the kind you bought was already prescribed."—Philadelphia Press.

Nothing Doing.

A playwright discussed at a dinner in New York the art of acting. "I believe," said he, "in subtlety and restraint. A nod, a shake of the head, a silent pause—these things are often more effective than the most violent yelling and ranting."

"Life is like that, subtle and silent. What, for instance, could be more expressive than this scene, a scene without a spoken word, that I once witnessed in the country?"

"An undertaker stood on a corner near a noble mansion. He elevated his brows hopefully and inquisitively as a physician came from the house. The physician, compensating his lips, shook his head decidedly and hurried to his carriage. Then the undertaker, with a sigh, passed on."

The Slow Train.

A conductor on a certain train noted for its slowness asked a hoary headed, white bearded passenger for his ticket. "I gave it to you," said the old man. "I guess not," the conductor replied. "Where'd you get on?" "At Buxby's Crossing?" "Why," the conductor cried, "there wasn't anybody got on at Buxby's Crossing except one little boy." "I," said the aged one, "was that little boy."—Lippincott's.
